Street Art

In Y6 this half-term, we have been studying the genre of Street Art. We have researched street artists in the local area and tried to imitate their styles - with some children adding creative twists to their own work. We particularly liked studying local legend Pete McKee - the children really enjoyed creating their own self-portraits using his unique cartoon-inspired style. Finally, we studied world-renowned street artist, Banksy. The children were challenged to work in small groups to create their own street art, using spray paint - taking inspiration from Children's Mental Health Week to influence their designs.

In Year 6, we focussed on writing an explanation text (and then advert!) for how a 'cracking contraption' works. We studied Wallace and Gromit's cracking contraptions, then designed our own around the theme of helping the environment. We considered how each step of the contraption would work, and used our Y6 writing features to explain this.
